

the members of such regiment or separate organization ; provided, that nothing therein shall be inconsistent with the constitution or laws of this State or of the United States, or the rules and regulations prescribed by the commander-in chief.

1896, ch. 89.

25. The force composed and organized as prescribed in this article shall be considered in the actual military service of this State and liable to be called into active service at any time for the repression of disorder and for the protection of property in aid of the civil authorities and the police of this State ; and the members thereof shall be subject to all such military rules and regulations as are applicable to such bodies in time of peace ; and all military offenses, such as disobedience of orders, non-attendance at drills, assemblies, parades, reviews or encampment, or neglect or non-performance of such other duty as they may lawfully be called on to perform, shall be considered, and they are hereby declared to be offenses against the general police regulations of the State, and shall be punished by fine or imprisonment as hereinafter provided ; and in addition to such fine or imprisonment as may be thus imposed, the offender may be reprimanded or dishonorably discharged from the service by the commander of the regiment or separate organization to which he belongs.

Ibid.

26. Any enlisted man of said organizations committing any of the offenses mentioned in section 25 of this article shall be liable to and forfeit and pay the following fines and penalties, viz : (a) for neglect or refusal to attend any assembly of his regiment, battalion, company or separate organization ordered by the respective commandants thereof, the sum of fifty cents for each offense ; (b) for every day of non-attendance at any encampment or cruise ordered by the commander-in-chief, or by the commandant of such regiment or battalion or separate organization, the sum of fifty cents ; (c) for each and every offense provided for in said section 25, the sum of one dollar ; (d) every officer guilty of any of the offenses or neglects above set forth shall be subject to a fine of twice the amount which would be payable by an enlisted man for the same offense ; no excuse shall be valid for any of the
